In the first part of the session we saw little upward move from 11.170 to 11.220 (our target was 11.230...) – so, a LONG could have been possible. After that an unexpected and sudden move appeared in the market. It moved Dow under 11.130 (where it was our “reverse level”) to 10.950 – our strong support. We didn’t forecasted the short more, but you could entered at the reversal level from 11.130.
